

MECHANICAL ENGINEER

Raycap, Inc. with its operations located in Post Falls, ID specializes in the design and manufacture of electrical surge protection equipment. Markets include the telecommunications, oil and gas, alternative energy (wind and solar) and commercial industrial industries. We are currently seeking a Mechanical Engineer.

Requirements:

- Bachelor's Degree in Mechanical Engineering
- Experience working with plastics and sheet metal
- Proficiency in SolidWorks CAD Software
- Knowledge of North American AC power infrastructure a plus
- Experience in power protection, telecommunications, energy, defense, industrial automation and/or control industries is helpful
- Strong organizational and time management skills with emphasis on handling details
- Strong verbal presentation, writing and computer application skills
- This position will require approximately 10% travel

Qualified candidates please e-mail resume and cover letter to:
hr.eng@raycapinc.com. No phone calls please.